

INDEPENDENT

26 DECEMBER 2021

TRAVELLER

THIS WEEK'S DIGEST OF EXCEPTIONAL JOURNEYS, UNDER-THE-RADAR
DESTINATIONS AND THE HOTTEST HOTELS

Great Dane: sample some festive treats in Copenhagen

The hotel's Cafe Coco is open to guests and the general public (Coco Hotel)

Travel essentials

Getting there

Trying to fly less?

There are various flight-free options: you can take a Eurostar and onward trains from London to Brussels, Cologne or Hamburg. Stay the night, then catch an onward train to Copenhagen the next day. Alternatively, you can sail from Harwich to the Hook of Holland, catch the train to Amsterdam and get onward trains from there to Copenhagen.

Fine with flying?

Ryanair, Norwegian, SAS and British Airways fly direct from the UK to Copenhagen.

Staying there

Coco Hotel is a delightful boutique hotel in the central Vesterbro neighbourhood. The ground floor Cafe Coco bar (and its free glass of wine between 5pm and 6pm), cosy central courtyard and superb breakfast served across the road in sister establishment Delphine all make this an attractive choice of stay. Doubles from 900 DKK (£103).

Want your views to be included in The Independent Daily Edition letters page? Email us by tapping here letters@independent.co.uk.

Please include your address

